Healing Hearts
Through Discussion and Action

Healing Hearts – Through Discussion and Action is a brand new show produced by Immigration Partnership Winnipeg , Hue Productions and community leader Clayton Sandy. They have created a unique virtual show that addresses Indigenous and ethnocultural topics and issues in an informal and thought provoking format. Host Tracy Koga from Hue Productions guides the conversation that includes a live Q and A with the audience online and guests on Zoom. There is not a show like this that allows people of all races and cultures to express their views and open our eyes to their past lived experiences. It is our hope that Healing Hearts will be an educational tool for all to learn about each other and start new bonds between our cultures.
